Appomattox County Library

By Verna Conner

"All things bright and beautiful, All creatures great and small; All things wise and wonderful, The Lord God made them all."

This is the theme of the two books by James Herriott which were published in 1972. The second line of the song is the name of the first book and the first line is the sequel to it. The author is a country veterinarian and apparently loves all animal life. No words of mine can express the beauty of these two books. One is indeed privileged to look into the mind and heart of such a dedicated person as James Herriott. The world would be a better place if tender loving care were a prerequisite of every doctor's training.

The Advisory Board met on Tuesday, March 30. Several things were suggested to improve the condition of the library and make it more attractive for our Bi-centennial Year. The outside sign is being painted and new shelves ordered for the surplus of books now piled on tables. Also a lovely case has been donated for the artifacts that are to be placed in the library.

Several Friends of the Library are making a display of books in a downtown bank window and are also placing an Easter exhibit in the library in celebration of National Library Week - April 4-10.

A number of new books came in last week and are in the process of being classified and catalogued. With all the other duties of the librarians this takes some time, so be patient. IN glancing through them I noticed Billy Graham's new book entitled "Angels"; another by D.E. Stevenson, a very popular author, and a huge one by Galsworthy which all of us will want to read. More about them next week.

Someone suggested that we review more biographies. Here are some good ones but space will not allow me to give you more than the, names and authors this week: Hour of Gold by Anne Morrow Lindbergh; Sixpence in Her Shoe by Phyllis McGinley; First Woman Doctor by Rachel Baker; Kim, a Gift From Vietnam by Frank W. Chinook; Forty Acres and No Mule by Janet Holt Giles; Man Who Moved a Mountain by Richard Davis; Mary, Queen of Scots by Antonia Fraser and Dr. Kate, Angel on Snowshoes by Adele Comandine. These are just a sample of true stories of men and women we should all know.
